has practiced regularly and is much further advanced than he was at this time last season.

Coach Thomas feels that he will surely pitch a very good game next Monday afternoon against Yale. It is Coach Thomas intention to have imlay pitch this game, and the Pennsylvania captain is very anxious to do so, mainly because he was in the box last June when Yale and Pennsylvania played a fourteen-inging tie game at New Hawen, this being the only tie game between those teams last year. Should finly not prove to be pitching up to the form expected on Monday, Pennsylvania has another very good man in Sayre, who will take his place. For Yale, Brown and Scott are the two pitchers who are expected to make the best showing this season. However, we will be season thrown was the pitcher who opposed finlay in the above-montioned fourteen-ining ite game, and he also is anxious to be on the mound again when these two Learns meet next Munday.

He will be saved for this game, and the monday in the saved for this game, and is also a very dependable man, as this is his second year on the nine.

The "three-man" rule, the one which will revolutionize amateur hasball hereding was called to order at 8:45 and at 8:45 o'clock the rules were passed, without a dissenting vote, and the amateur toministion passed away.

This is the fastest piece of business ever pulled off at a commission meeting, and while the conference was a little late getting under way, President Young rushed matters along, when the mogules had been called to order.

The "three-man" rule will take the voting power out of the hands of the commission, and will vest all the power in the hands of three men, the president of the association, as the commission, and will vest all the power in the hands of three men, the president of the association, as the commission, and will vest all the power leftert after here were of by-laws were passed, and a new constitution went into effect last night. The new rules are almost the same as the old ones, with the exception of the "three-man" clause.

But five leagues were represented just ugain—the Departmental. Government, Marquette, R. R. Y. M. C. A. and the Capital City. Three of these are ready to short the season at once, as the teams have been selected and the officers practically chosen. The R. R. Y. M. C. A. League will have four fast clubs fighting for the pennant, while the Departmental will have six and possibly eight. In the Marquette League, Capt. Edwards says he will have six fast clubs, and would like to hear from two teams who desire a herei in a fast circuit.

Clark Griffith will make an ideal man for the Board of Control. One of the best-informed men in baseball today, the Nationals' pilot understands the amateur angle of the game, and will devote a good bit of his time to the welfare of amateur baseball here. Last season his "amateur day" stunt was the talk of the American League circuit, and this season he plans another "amateur day" parade, only on a bigger scale.

President Wilson has been invited to attend the Princeton-Georgetown baseball game this afternoon on the Hillton, and will undoubtedly accept the invitation, owing to his former relations to Princeton University. If President Wilson finally decides to attend the battle on the West End field this afternoon, it will be the first time in several years that the President of the United States has attended a baseball game on the West End field. Together with the President, several of the foreign ministers will journey to the West End diamond to see the tattle, and also act as executs to President, several of the foreign will be decorated to accommodate the Presidential party, and likewise the mags of the different coun-

John Kilonia, Greek middle-weight champion wreatier, defeated Young Olsen, the Newfoundland grappier, last night at the Gayety, in one of the best bouts of the year. Kilonis won the first fall after an hour's aggressive work, on a toe hold, forcing Olsen to give up, while the Swede won the second fall after sixteen minutes of speedy work.

Coming to the mat in the third bout, Nilonis rushed Olsen off his feet, and the men worked for nine minutes, until Kilonis primed Olsen's shoulders to the man with a single toe hold.

Pat O'Connor, the well-known local sportsman, referred the hout and gave entire satisfaction, as usual. Gus Pappas, the well-known wrestler from Roston, challenged the winter to a finish bout, while Fritz Hansen stated that I he would like to take on Kilonis refused to consider either challenge at once.
